

An Interfaith Educational Series

- |         |  |   |
|---------|--|---|
| Oct. 24 | Mysticism in the World's Religions .....        | Dr. Marvin Anderson, theologian and educator                                |
| Oct. 31 | Women in Islam .....                            | Raheel Raza, author, media commentator, interfaith activist                 |
| Nov. 7  | Prayer, Silence and Interfaith Dialogue .....   | Chander Khanna, interfaith activist   |
| Nov. 14 | Religious Freedom and Interfaith dialogue ..... | Ellen Campbell, President – International Association for Religious Freedom |
| Nov. 21 | Humour in the World's Religions .....           | Representatives from various faiths   |

All of the above events begin at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesdays

Locale: Scarboro Missions, 2685 Kingston Rd., (southwest corner of Kingston Rd. & Brimley Rd.)

For more info about the above events: contact Scarboro Missions Interfaith Desk
tel. 416-261-7135 ext. 296 e-mail: interfaith@scarboromissions.ca

It seems to me that the world's religions are like siblings separated at birth. We've grown up in different neighbourhoods, different households, with different songs, stories, traditions and customs. But now we've been reunited, and, having found each other after so many years apart, we look into each other's faces and can see the family resemblance. We're back together again, and it's very good. Richard Watts